Bottling our Traditional Method Now

We are now bottling our Madeleine Claire organic sparkling wine Champers so it is a good time to pre-order.

We will let you know when it is available - in time for Christmas too! By the way, 'traditional method' refers to the fact that this wine is made in the manner of champagne (not merely carbonated) but we are not allowed to call it champagne as the term belongs to that region in France - and fair enough too!

And just to let you know we have 'put down' some organic sparkling red Shiraz; it will be ready for Christmas.

Wine Club

What's Happening in the Vineyard

Next week we start pruning our organic vineyard, all 33 rows and waiting for some much-needed rain.
