What's Happening in the Vineyard

We have had a cool and dry February here in the Swan Valley - this year we had 0 mm of rain in February which means better flavour development at vintage! So, we will be making greater organic wines than usual! The vineyard is very happy; we have already picked our chardonnay grapes to make our dry white and this week we are waiting for other grapes to ripen. Its a late vintage, compared with 2016, but earlier than last year. And we have a new member of the family. Wendy has a new baby, see below.
